

Ohio State Highway Patrol

Media Advisory

General Headquarters • Columbus, Ohio

For Immediate Release: February 25, 2011
Contact: S/Lt. Tony Bradshaw (614) 752-2792

University of Cincinnati Bearcats to receive Patrol's Partners for Safety Award

What: University of Cincinnati Bearcats to receive the Ohio State Highway Patrol's 2010 Partners for Safety Award.

When: Sunday, February 27
During the first media break of the second-half of the University of Cincinnati Bearcats men's basketball game versus Connecticut

Where: University of Cincinnati
Fifth Third Arena

Who: Colonel John Born, Patrol Superintendent
Head Football Coach Butch Jones, University of Cincinnati Bearcats
Captain Robert Johnson, Commander of the Patrol's Wilmington District
Lt. Michael Sanders, Commander of the Patrol's Lebanon Post

The Ohio State Highway Patrol's Partners for Safety Award recognizes local level partnerships that help in the development of state and local programs to increase the overall safety on Ohio roadways. During the past two seasons, the Ohio State Highway Patrol's Lebanon Post and Bearcats have partnered to promote traffic safety to students, fans and the Cincinnati community.

The 2010 Award will be presented to Head Football Coach Butch Jones during the first media break following half-time.

###

11-033